MISSOULA GREEKS GIVE BACK TO COMMUNITY

MISSOULA--

The Greek community at The University of Montana gave up plenty of free time in 1998, raising a total of $4,160 for charity and working 6,284 volunteer hours.

With 450 Greeks in UM's seven fraternities and four sororities, that's an average of 14 hours per person in volunteer labor for organizations like Project Playground, Camp Mak-A-Dream, the American Heart Association and Big Brothers & Sisters of Missoula.

"These students have big hearts," said Mike Esposito, Greek Life adviser. "Even with their studying and campus involvement, they donate their time and talent to the Missoula community."

The numbers are gathered from annual chapter evaluations conducted by the Greek Life Office, chapter presidents and chapter officers. Awards will be given out for the most philanthropic activity at the Greek Awards in April.
